

Drum Lessons

Hi Everyone,

I just wanted everyone to know that I will be offering drum lessons for beginners to novices. All students will be taught how to read drum music regardless of their skill level. This will help them in their overall development as musicians since time signatures of the notes are the same for all sheet music, should they decide to change instruments. Being able to read music also helps the students in learning complex rhythms faster.

Bio: While growing up, I took lessons throughout my school years and was in several bands. At age 21 I gave my life to the Lord and turned over my gifts to Him. I married my wife, Ann, a singer, songwriter, and pianist and formed a Christian band called Split Second. We ministered throughout the New England area and in 1999 released a CD. During this time I also studied under John Horrigan for three years. I started attending Calvary Chapel in 1989 and began serving in ministry and I have been on the Worship Team there since the early 90's as well as serving as an usher, in prison ministry, and I am presently an elder and working with the youth group.

Where: 175 Market St. Rockland, MA.

Times: After school - the day to be determined according to student's activities.

Cost: $25.00 per half hour. I have found that with everyone's busy schedule, every other week is sufficient for lessons and this gives time for students to learn their material.

If for some reason you prefer to have the lesson at your home, the cost would be $30.00 per half hour.
